

COVER: Red-billed Streamertail
Irochilus polytmus (male) photo by Robert Tyrrell.

All correspondence should be adressed to: The Editor,
Jamaica Naturalist,
c/o Dept. of Zoology,
University of the West Indies,
Kingston 7, Jamaica W.I.

EDITOR
Dr. Peter Vogel

EDITORIAL COMMITTEE
Catherine Levy
Rosemary Scoffield
Janet Terry

ADVERTISING
Adam Hyde

TYPESETTING & PRINTING
Hyde, Held & Blackburn Ltd.

SUBSCRIPTIONS: J$30 for 2 issues
(in Jamaica only); Foreign subscriptions US$15 (or equivalent) postage included.

ADVERTISING: Rates sent on request.

Vol. 1 No. 1 January, 1991
Copyright © by the Natural History Society of Jamaica.
Cover or contents may not be reproduced in whole or in part without written permission.

CONTENTS

EDITORIAL

- The Jamaica Naturalist, a New Magazine 3

NHS BRIEFS

- The Natural History Society of Jamaica 4

ARTICLES

- Effects of Hurricane Gilbert on Bird Populations in Jamaica, reviewed by Ivan Goodbody 5
- A Jamaican Speciality: The Bromeliad Crab, by Rudolph Diesel 7
- Notes on the Jamaican Hutia, Geocapromys brownii and a Reintroduction of a Captive Bred Population, by Laurie Wilkins 11
- The Diversity and Significance of the Fossil Fauna From the Amber Deposits of the Dominican Republic, by Steve Donovan 16
- The Threatened Flowering Plants of Jamaica; a Reappraisal, by Daniel L. Kelly 19

ECOTRENDS

- Jamaica's Crisis in Forestry and Watershed Management,
by L. Alan Eyre 27

RESEARCH NEWS

- The Mongoose in the West Indies by Peter Vogel and Kamla K. Tolan 35
- Diet and the West Indian Manatee by Barbara A. Chow 36
- Bird-wasp Nesting Associations by Catherine Levy 37

BOOK REVIEWS

- P.V. Devi Prasad: Edible Fruits and Vegetables of the English speaking Caribbean, reviewed by Hosford Scott 38
- Joyce Glasgow, Ed: Environmental Education, reviewed by Joy Royes 38
- Vin Helwig: Remembering the Tody; Frank Bernal: Birds
of Jamaica, reviewed by Catherine Levy 39

NATURALISTS NOTEBOOK

- Eye to Eye with the Jamaican Iguana, by John Lindo 41

- N.E.S.T. - The Natutral
Environmental Societies Trust 44

JAMAICA NATURALIST is published by the Natural History Society of Jamaica